A systematic search for an equilibrium of shapes that achieves a unique naturalness in decorating spaces.

From there arise the reflections Alessio Elli made on glass, a material he explored and experimented in its wide range of aesthetic and construction possibilities.

Every piece of furniture develops from a project design where glass crosses spaces and spaces are reflected in glass. Transparency is its mark to easily integrate into any environment. Furniture and furnishing accessories epitomize the Italian Style - though freely interpreted - and retain their distinctive appearance to imbue the target spaces with the utmost discretion. Lines, light and color take their shape on the surface, conveying a sense of abstract weightlessness. Glass smoothness and compactness provide a physical dimension to the formal equilibrium of design.
