

These awesome night lights are handmade in the USA by Jon (3rd generation) and Rustom (4th generation) designer makers. Jon's dad made furniture for the White House during the Truman administration. Jon's work is in 16 museum collections, and they have had their work in many individual and group museum exhibitions. Jon has a MFA from Rutgers and a MID in product design from Pratt Institute. Rustom has a bachelor's and master's degree from Cornell University, and is an enthusiastic member of the Maker movement.

The night lights are made with sustainable hardwoods and are fashioned with the same meticulous care and materials used to make very high end furniture. They are hand rubbed with a traditional tung oil finish. The result is museum quality fine design.
