Kalispel Case Line returns to the 2019 SHOT Show in Las Vegas

Cusick, WA, January 14, 2019 – After nine years, Kalispel Case Line, maker of “the Original” aluminum gun and rifle cases, is joining 1,600 exhibitors at the 2019 SHOT Show, January 22 – 25, at the Sands Expo Center in Las Vegas.

Kalispel Case Line cases have been made in the USA – in Cusick, Washington, since 1974. “Our hand-crafted cases have been providing secure storage for decades. They’re nearly indestructible, and our customers often pass them down to their children and grandchildren,” says Colene Rubertt, Director of Kalispel Metal Products, where the cases are produced.

Unlike competitors’ cases, all Kalispel Case Line cases are made from .080 marine type aluminum. Each case features military spec hardware, a stainless-steel locking rod assembly and padlock accessory, and heliarc welds for strength and security. Kalispel Case Line’s products include cases for rifles, shotguns, pistols, and bows. Powder coating and color options are now available.

“We have world-class hunters who travel extensively. Their equipment is priceless, and they trust our cases to protect their investments,” says Rubertt. “Customers who bought their cases decades ago tell us how well Kalispel Case Line cases have held up in the worst transportation scenarios. Their equipment has never been damaged. Testimonials like these and our customers’ consistently asking if we were going to start production again are the reasons we’ve come to SHOT Show,” says Rubertt.

SHOT Show attendees can find Kalispel Case Line in the NEXT Pavilion in Booth N320, where they can meet with team members and learn more about the cases.
